

KATHARINA HUSSLEIN

Inspired by paintings created by old masters and the immersive nature she experienced in the Black Forest, German artist Katharina Husslein paints in a representational manner to capture lively bouquets and saturated landscapes. Born in Wertheim, Germany, Husslein grew up in a quaint village surrounded by luscious hills and flowing rivers. To grow her practice and widen her perspective, she left Germany to study art in London, UK. As part of her studies she lived in Los Angeles, New York, and Australia as well.

Within her impressionist landscape paintings, her experiences abroad truly come to light. These textural and abstracted paintings perfectly capture the vibrancy and movement included in a coastal sunset. This series differs from Husslein's more controlled and smoother still life floral series which derives a more direct inspiration from art history and flower photography.

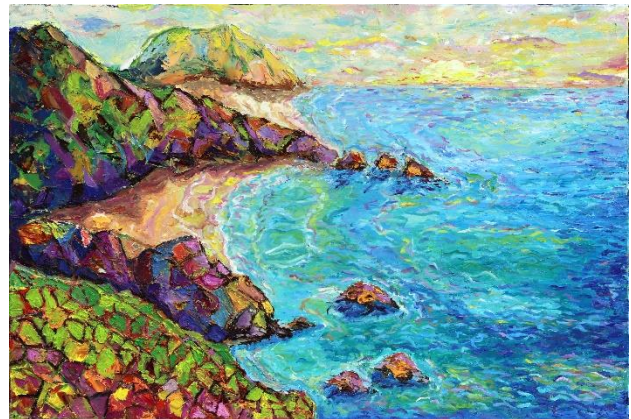

"I create paintings which capture the joy of the moment in time where everything seems quietly perfect and the flowers are in full bloom. A metaphor as old as time, to seize the moment and enjoy it to its fullest extent."

Now based in Munich, Germany, Husslein has exhibited her artworks across Europe, gaining collectors internationally.
