LAURA SCHULER

Laura Schuler is a mixed media artist living and working in Los Angeles, California. Her style of art represents an expression of movement and energy that incorporates layers of acrylic paint intersecting with spray paint. She works hard to manipulate acrylic paint in innovate ways to create lightness in layers and odes to other media. Through the layering and movement within each of her artworks, her style can often resemble underwater seascapes. Schuler continuously experiments with colors and shapes that highlight negative space. Her marks capture her highly gestural process of paintings that harness iterative physicality and flow.

Schuler always begins through the focus on a singular color which guides the following sponteneity on canvas. While creating each artwork, she rotates the canvas and views the canvas from various angles to inspire further creativity. Schuler is very hands on with the process and you can find her always mounting her own canvas on stretcher bars and collaborating directly with established interior designers. Schuler has sold work throughout the United States, as well as internationally.
